Survey On Traditional System Gets Approval

Andover parents who would opt for a pilot program of traditional education will have their chance to speak up beginning next week.

A traditional school questionnaire presented by Associate Superintendent Harry Westcott Tuesday night, was okayed by the school committee, and is expected to be mailed out to all parents by the middle of next week.

The legal-size questionnaire describes a traditional school concept having basic subjects with much teacher - direction and drill, textbooks for each course, letter grades, homework, heterogeneous grouping of mixed abilities, self-contained classrooms, firm discipline, and the like.

At the bottom it asks: If the school department were to offer a pilot program with this type of environment, would you request your child to be transferred from his/her present program.

The deadline for returning the forms was set at October 1, and the committee indicated that if there is sufficient interest, it would institute a pilot in January.

Chairman Frank Griggs also indicated Tuesday night that the number of people handling the survey should be kept to a minimum, and that the numbers of the responses are to be kept strictly confidential.

He said he was trying to avoid a "numbers" game, where there would be a tally of so many for and so many against traditional classrooms.

"That," he said, "is not the intent of this survey."

After the forms are returned, Griggs said the parents who are interested in a pilot would be invited to a meeting to discuss the matter more specifically.

The traditional classroom questionnaire was first drawn up last spring by a group of parents interested in that alternative, working with Westcott. Westcott offered several revisions, after meeting with the school principals, and the questionnaire was postponed by the committee until September.

The questionnaire that will be mailed next week, with return envelopes, incorporates some of those changes. The primary difference from last spring's is that it describes only the characteristics of the traditional school, rather than having a column alongside describing the open classroom concept.

Committeeman Elaine Viehman expressed continued concern Tuesday night that the traditional description implies that many of the things listed, such as minimum standards and home work, are not included in the current curricula in

School Board Can Choose Replacement

By Robert E. Finneran
Managing Editor

The school committee has been given the opportunity of filling the vacancy on their board with a person of their unanimous choice.

Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen and who chairs the joint selection committee, said this week that his board has informed the school board that if they can present a candidate unanimously agreed upon, the selectmen would vote their approval.

The two boards were scheduled to meet Monday to accept nominations for the vacancy caused by the resignation of Committeeman John F. Lyons in June.

The meeting was postponed, Greenberg said, in order to provide the remaining four school committee members time to deliberate and come up with an agreeable candidate.

Greenberg said that no definite time has been established for another joint meeting, allowing the school board sufficient time to deliberate and have dialogue concerning the appointment.

"We feel they should have sufficient time to give the proposal every chance of success," Greenberg said.

School Board Chairman Frank Griggs said this week that there had been no unanimity on a candidate as yet among his colleagues.

The action is different from the last time a joint session was called to name a replacement for School Committeeman John G. Wragg who resigned last fall.

At that time the selectmen, with a five-vote unanimity, placed William VanN. Washburn on the board. They retain the voting strength to do the same this time, but have decided to allow the school board its choice in the matter.

Philosophy behind the move is based on the fact that the selectmen do not wish to get involved in

Named Task Force Member Of League

Milton Greenberg

Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen, has been named to the executive committee of the Massachusetts League of Cities and Towns.

Greenberg has been appointed to a task force of the league studying an intermediary level of government - a unit which would serve between the local and state level.

The Andover selectman, who has constantly been critical of the erosion of home rule through regionalization of government operations, will be working with the task force in preparation of a presentation to the league's annual meeting on October in Braintree.

He notes that the league is a vital force in working toward the preservation of identity of local governments and protection of home rule interests.

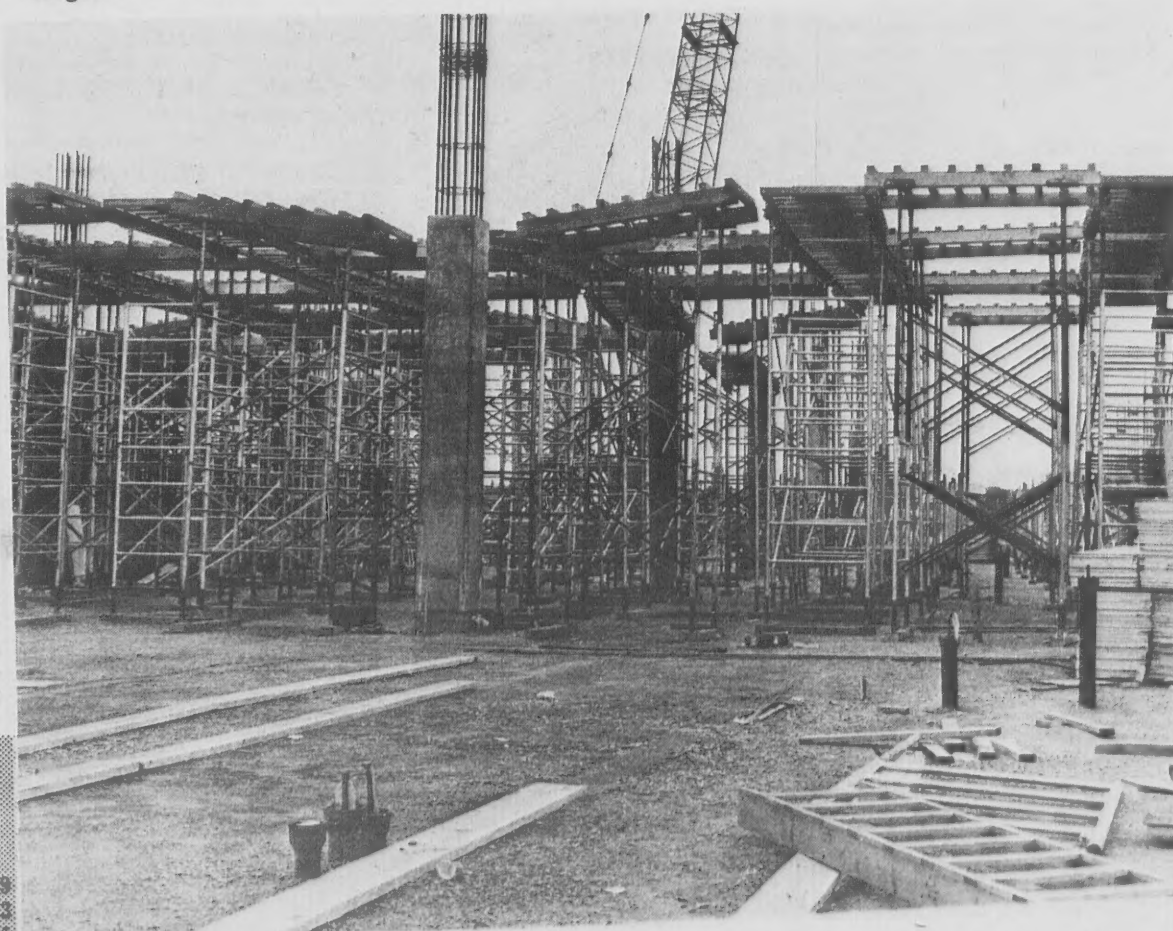

There has been constant critique of the county government structure in Massachusetts and the examination of an intermediary level of governmental operations is an effort at either maintaining such a structure, improving it, or providing alternatives which would better serve towns and cities.

Greenberg said his advocacy of a return of the decision making process to local communities will be an important consideration in his work with the task force.

In recent years, he noted, the increasing amount of federal funds has been promulgated on a regional solution to major problems. Such action is acceptable, provided that the town and cities involved retain their identity and decision making abilities.

This past year Greenberg was named to the Essex County Advisory Board, a group which effected savings in the county budget.

P.A. Begins Year Saturday

Phillips Academy will open its doors Saturday, Sept. 20, to new students for its 198th year. 432 new boys and girls chosen from over 2,000 applicants will be coming from every region of the United States and 20 foreign countries, but 40 of them come from right here in Andover.

The new 9th, 10th, 11th or 12th graders will have three days of Orientation, a series of activities on and about the campus designed to make them feel at home in their new surroundings and begin to make friends. They will be joined Monday by the returning Andover students. On "Arena Day," next Wednesday, Sept. 24, all students will sign up for their academic courses. On Thursday, Sept. 25, academic classes will begin at Andover, one of the country's most widely respected, oldest and largest independent residential schools.

The enrollment this year is 1,116 students, 172 of them day students. There will be 378 girls and 738 boys at the Academy, which means there will be slightly more than half as many girls as boys. In this third year of coeducation, the last class of girls who were students at Abbot Academy will be seniors; the two schools formally combined in the summer in 1973. The school is gradually continuing its very gradual reduction in size from a swollen enrollment just after the merger toward an optimum size school. An unusually large senior class this year of 393 students, who will be graduating next June, will aid in the transition which will be complete when a decision about the Abbot campus is reached and implemented.

Phillips Academy's Trustees will be meeting at the Academy Sept. 26-27 with representatives of the Phillips and Abbot alumni/ae to make plans for the Academy's Bicentennial two years hence.

The Academy's outreach beyond its regular student body this fall will include both the Andover Evening Study Program, offered for more than 40 years, and the newer Short Term Institutes. The Andover Evening Study Program, combined this year with the Town of Andover's Recreation / Community Schools Program, begins Sept. 22. The Short Term Institutes (STI's) bring public school students and some teachers from all over the country and abroad to Phillips Academy for six weeks of concentrated residential study of one topic. They are taught by an experienced Phillips Academy teacher released from other teaching duties for that period. This fall's STI agenda begins on Oct. 14, with the Observational Astronomy Institute, taught by Jay Sarton. Two more STI's, Beginning Russian and Theatre and the Performing Arts, will begin Nov. 3.

Andover residents who will register as new students at Phillips Academy Saturday include:

Students Suspended For School Walkout

Two-day suspensions for 136 Andover High students who participated in a walk-out in protest of a cutback in student privileges last week, ended today.

The students, suspended by Principal Philip Wormwood after the walk-out last Friday morning, were scheduled to return to classes today after having served their two-day suspension Tuesday and Wednesday.

The walk-out took place Friday following the taking of homeroom attendance at the school. The students went out on the back lawn of the school to protest what they termed a cutback in student privileges, such as corridor permission, smoking areas and other freedoms.

The new regulations were prompted, according to school officials, due to the vandalism which occurred at the school the latter part of the last school year, as well as the overcrowded conditions at the school.

After the 130 members of the student body which numbers 1,500 had walked out Friday morning, Principal Philip Wormwood and Assistant Principal Wilbur Hixon addressed the protestors and told them that disciplinary action would be forthcoming.

The Andover fire department responded to three false alarms pulled at the school in the time period surrounding the walk-out. The first response was at 8:11 a.m., the second at 8:44 a.m. and the third at 8:58 a.m.

Cut-backs are such privileges as study periods outdoors, during which students could utilize a smoking area to the rear of the building. The students must also obtain corridor passes, which was not in effect a year ago.

Principal Wormwood said the suspensions were based on the fact the students left the building without permission, they went to an area that was off limits and that their action was disruptive to the school program.

Letters were sent to parents following the protest, to inform them of the action being taken.

Principal Wormwood reported that some parents were in accord with the decision to suspend the students, which was supported by Supt. of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert. Some parents objected to the action, Wormwood said, and there were some hearings provided those who objected.

The high school principal said he had no regrets about making the decision, noting there is a right way and a wrong way to do things and "maybe this is all part of education."

It was at the Old South Meetinghouse, Washington Street at School Street, Boston, that the signal was given for the Boston Tea Party on December 16, 1773. Open 10 to 6 daily.

the schools, when in fact they are.

Griggs has contended that there would be overlapping in the descriptions of any two alternatives.

Committeeman David Ahouse had hesitated last week to approve the survey because the administrators had not had a chance to comment on revisions. They were subsequently given that chance, but the committee chose to pass over their comments.

Griggs said he felt the administrators had offered "negative input" that was a "defensive action."

Mrs. Viehmann said she felt another matter had been missed: "that when we go with a pilot program, it will have an affect on a large group of children, not just those whose parents opt for the pilot."

There are those that might be moved from their classrooms or their neighborhood schools to make room for a pilot program, she said, no matter what option they'd chosen.

"I think," she said, "that parents should know that this is involved. They may find that Johnny no longer goes down the street to his school or that he goes to a different school than other children on the block."

A pilot program would also create large expenses in transportation, she said, and would take a great deal of planning.

"Parents should know that this is going to be part of it," she said.

Griggs agreed that a pilot "could create more problems than it solves," but added that the implications and definitions would be discussed thoroughly in meetings with parents.

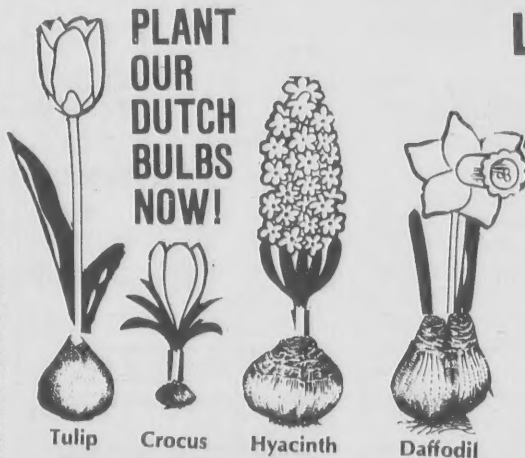

For instance, he said, when they say neat appearance, "do they mean a shirt and tie?"

The survey will be sent to parents of private and parochial school youngsters in town, as well as public school pupils, and copies will be available at the schools.

America House Featured On Tour

Historical Home

Diane Goldsmith checks over the "America" House, one of the stops on a tour of historic homes in Andover planned by the Andover Bicentennial Commission in October.

Are you aware that Lafayette drank grog in Andover's Rose Cottage en route to Concord; or the students constructed coffins in Harriet Beecher Stowe's home; or that the song "America" was composed in Andover?

Many of Andover's old houses and sites hold a wealth of historical data and colorful anecdotes.

In order to inform citizens of their history the Andover Bicentennial Commission is sponsoring a historical bus tour of Andover each Sunday afternoon in October 5, 12, 19 and 26.

The tour will originate at the Andover Historical Society, 97 Main Street at 2 p.m. In order to make bus reservations the committee requests tickets be purchased in advance. Tickets are $1.25, available at Thompsons, 77 Main Street, and Liggett Rexal Drugstore at the Shawsheen Plaza.

The information booth at Elm Square, manned by members of the Shawsheen Women's Club, will be open from 10-1 on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 20 and 21 and Sept. 27 and 28 for the purchase of tickets also.

Special arrangements can be made upon request for groups or organizations by contacting Mrs. Dorothy Sherrerd, 475-1477.

Among the stops along the tour will be The America House. The historical landmark is described in this article, one of a series written by Kay Noyes for the TOWNSMAN several years ago.

Many of Andover's old houses hold a wealth of historical background never again to be recaptured, but none have achieved national recognition in the history of our country as has the "America House."

This rambling yellow house located on Main St., just north of Morton St., is far from being one of Andover's architectural gems but derives its quality of beauty from the patriotic sentiment for which it is unequalled.

"America" Written There

It was once the home of Mrs. Benjamin Hitchings, a widow well known for the colorful paper dolls she made and sold to the children. The sale of paper dolls was not too profitable with a family to be educated, so she soon started renting rooms to the students at the Theological Seminary. It was through this venture that her house became nationally famous for housing the Reverend Samuel Smith, D.D., author of our National Hymn as well as being the place of its birth.

As a boarder at Mrs. Hitchings, Samuel Smith had already completed his studies at Harvard and at the age of 24 was in the second year of his seminary course when he wrote the now famous words, known throughout the land. The writing of "America" came about purely by chance. Lowell Mason, a very noted composer and choir leader, sent Samuel a collection of German songs which he asked the young man to translate and if he felt so inclined to write verses to any melody that took his fancy. Going over the group of songs for his friend, one tune did catch his fancy and, not recognizing it as "God Save The King," he read over the German words written in a patriotic strain and felt a strong desire to write a patriotic hymn for his own country. He immediately set to work jotting down on scrap paper his own words. At the end of a half-hour he had completed his verses and, thinking little of his efforts, carelessly slipped them in with the translations to be returned to Lowell Mason.

Amazed To Hear It

Five months later, the Rev. Samuel Smith was amazed when he heard the voices of several hundred Boston school children sing his "little song" for the first time publicly at an Independence day celebration at the Park Street church in Boston.

At one time there was much debate as to whether the house in Andover was really where Mr. Smith wrote "America," but in his own words the solution is clearly given: "America was written in my room at the house of Mrs. Hitchings while standing before the front window, nearest the front door of the house, in the north parlor." Another point debated is whether he wrote the hymn on Feb. 22, 1832, which would have been the 100th birthday of George Washington. Samuel's only answer to this is that he wrote the hymn on a "dismal day in February." Still another point of interest is whether he was standing or sitting as he penned the famous verses. Around 1926, through a loyal friend of Phillips Academy, the trustees were financially able to purchase the "comfortable old rocking chair in which the Reverend Samuel Smith sat when he wrote America." The chair will be preserved by the academy as a memorial to the great man, but in his own words he remarked that he was stand-ding near his window when he did the work.

Soul-Stirring Verses

Whether he sat or stood when he wrote: "My country, 'til of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty, Of Thee I Sing; Land Where My Fathers died, Land of the Pilgrim's pride, From Every Mountain Side, Let Freedom Ring," is of little consequence as the final result was a soul-stirring hymn which echoed in the innermost recesses of the hearts of millions of Americans. The echoes should reach even deeper in the hearts of Andover residents as the hymn's birth may have been inspired by a few touches from our own local scene.

School Health Program Set For Improvement

The Andover School Committee Tuesday night gave the administration the go-ahead to hire a fifth school nurse.

The okay followed a report on school nursing by Associate Superintendent Harry Westcott, in which he described Andover schools as being "very thin" in the nurse department.

The committee also directed the administration to come back with recommendations for health education program at the school meeting in November.

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert had said that there currently is not "an identifiable health program in the Andover schools," but in-service programs over the summer made strides toward developing such a curriculum.

In the summary of Westcott's 60-page report, he had noted that there were formerly six nurses here, but that two were transferred to the Chapter 766 staff, leaving only four for regular school duties.

Those duties, he said, include assessing pupils' health, providing emergency care, assessing home situations, responding to such problems as child abuse and drug abuse, counseling, identifying special health programs, observing, testing and so on.

In addition to an additional nurse for the current year, Westcott also recommended that a corps of health aides be trained to handle emergencies in each school.

"We need immediate response capability," he said, adding that by the time a nurse is called and responds to a school now, the emergency might be over.

The emergency corps would also free the nurses for more education duties.

Westcott said he envisions a change in emphasis from health care as a major occupation for school nurses, to health education.

He said he sees the school nurse becoming a nurse-teacher, possibly with a BS degree in nursing and a teaching certificate as well.

Committeeman George Olesen said he felt that phys ed teachers would be the more logical ones to take over the health education aspect. They would offer more flexibility, should school population change, he said than the nurse-teachers.

Olesen also suggested the possibility of using public health nurses who would report to the towns Board of Health rather than the school department. Three towns - Watertown, Cambridge and Newton - currently do this.

Westcott, however, said he

Budget Workshop Planned

In the fall of 1972 a Budget Task Force was organized to find out more about the budget process and how it affected League program commitments. Since then the Budget Task Force has monitored revenue sharing in Massachusetts and evaluated the "Open Budget Law" in 1974 which altered the budget process and involved more people in fiscal decisions. Now the Task Force is presenting a "travelling road show" in League regions all over the state in order to share its information with us.

The purpose of the BTF Workshops include 1) informing League members about recent changes in the Massachusetts budget documents and process; 2) considering budget analysis techniques useful for all levels of government, and 3) exploring opportunities for broader participation in state budget decisions.

In our region the workshop will be held on Sept. 24, from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. We hope to have several people from Andover attending this conference. Please contact Sue Tucker, 6 Farrwood, if you are interested.

The Ballardvale session of the Mini-Clinic will be held next Tuesday, Sept. 23 between 2 and 4 p.m. at the Ballard Vale United Church. Appointments may be made by calling The Haven. At the church, patients are requested to use the upper parking lot and enter by the "Office" door. The next session of the clinic to be held at The Haven is scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 7.

Flu shots will be available shortly through The Haven but the date has not been set, pending the arrival of vaccine. Watch these columns for date and time.

All reservations for the Sturbridge Village trip are taken, but The Haven is taking names for a waiting list. Date for the trip is Thursday, Sept. 25.

It is hoped that those who wish to help The Haven are busy preparing items for sale at the Third Annual Christmas Bazaar to be held Oct. 30 and 31.

Two senior aides are available through The Haven to assist seniors with needs that can be met by The Home Care Corporation. Miss Amy Olenio and Mrs. Jennie Faraci are available to visit in the home to determine what help is needed for

How to pump up savings.

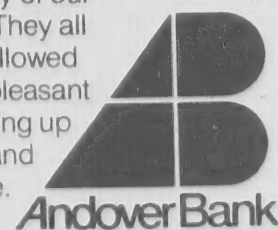

When Lauren Dearborn, in our Maintenance Department at Andover Bank, realized how much gas his old wagon was burning up, he figured his smartest move would be changing it for a new compact.

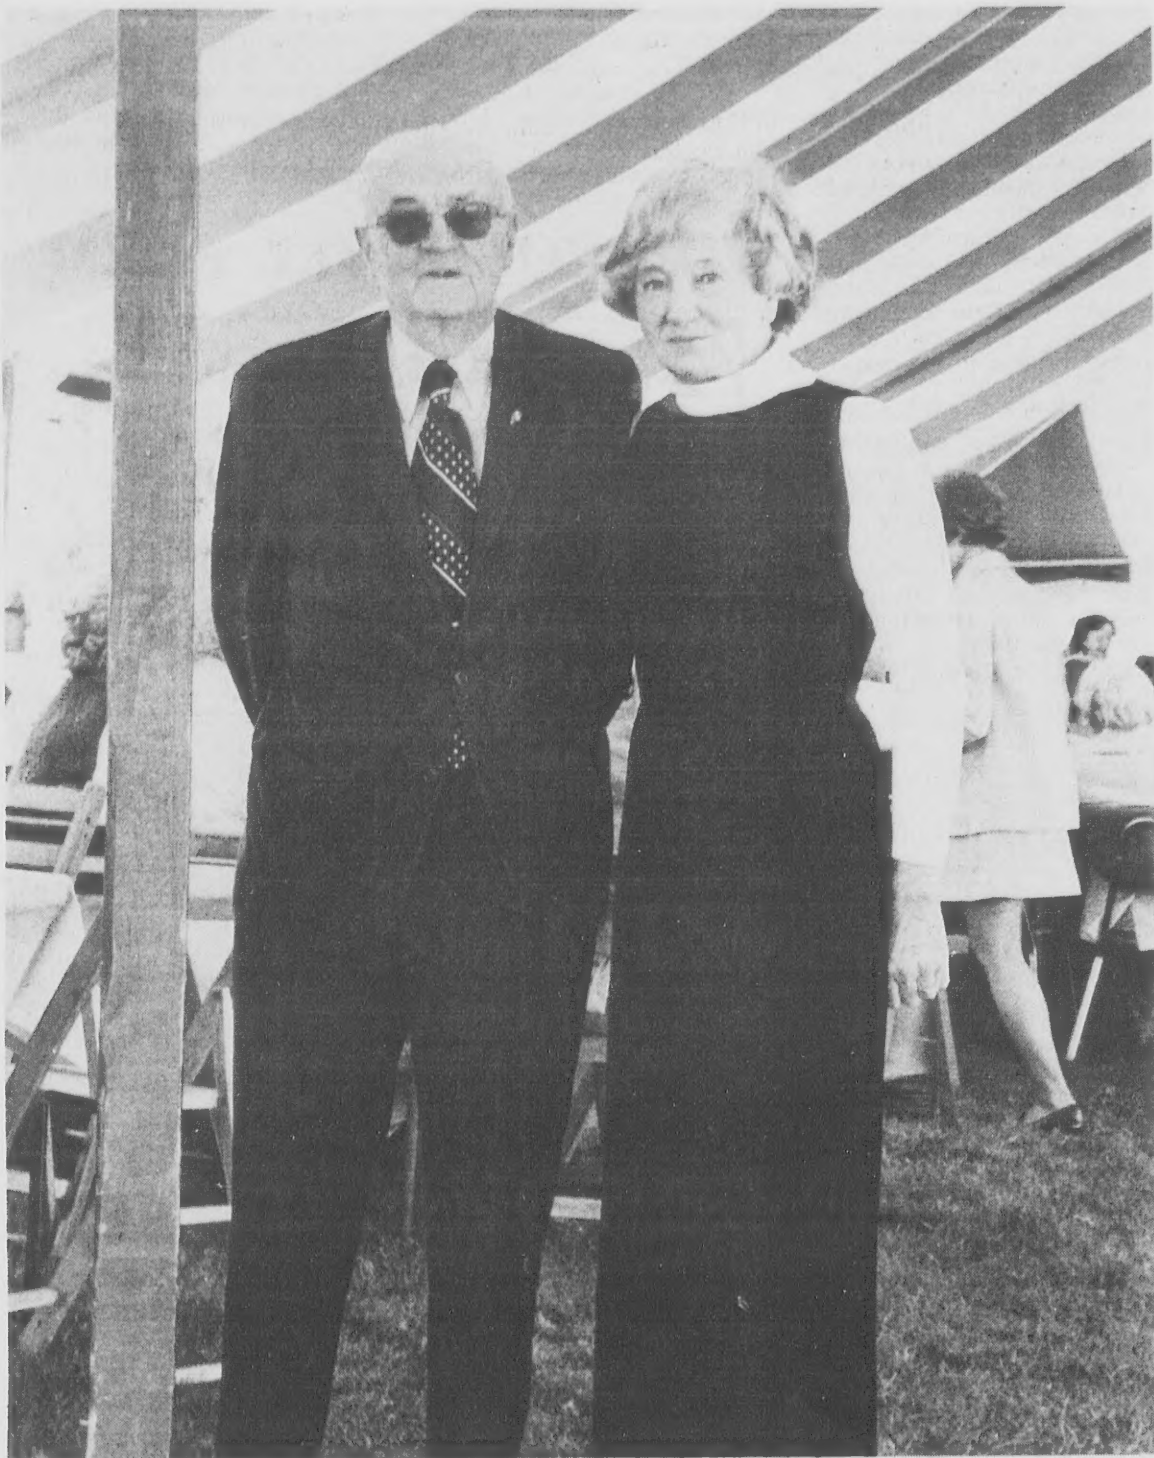

Now he's getting a lot more mileage for his money—and saving enough to make regular deposits in a new 90-day savings account. Those regular deposits and the 5 $\frac{3}{4}$ % interest they earn are adding up to a hefty down payment on Lauren's next car.

Want more mileage out of your money? Put some of yours into any of our many savings accounts. They all give the highest interest allowed by law. And if you see a pleasant looking young fellow driving up to our main office in a brand new compact, beep twice. It's probably Lauren.

Membership Drive Set For PTO

The Bancroft PTO Handbook has taken on a new look as families in the school's district will see during the week of Sept. 21.

PTO President Peter Schwind has announced that Mrs. Thomas Swift and Mrs. John Atanasoff will co-chair the annual membership drive which will take the form of a house to house canvass of parents of Bancroft School students. Over forty volunteers will be calling at the homes of prospective PTO members to acquaint them with the aims of the organization and to deliver the school calendar. Edited by PTO Treasurer Thomas Dill, the combination handbook and calendar will feature sketches by former Bancroft student Douglas Leitch in addition to presenting pertinent information about school procedures and a list of school dates and events to take place during the school year.

The annual membership drive is the major fund-raising activity of the Bancroft PTO. A successful campaign will allow the organization to continue financial support of projects extending the students' educational experiences which otherwise would not be possible within the school's budget.

12 'Sons Turned Clergy' Series Begins Sunday

THE TOWNSMAN, SEPTEMBER 18, 1975

Rev. Levering Reynolds, III, now of Wiscasset, Maine, and Pastor of the First Congregational Church there, will be the guest preacher at the Free Christian Church, Andover, on Sunday, Sept. 21. The service, which begins at 10:30 a.m. is one of a series entitled "Sons Turned Clergy," designed to recognize the young men brought up in the parish and then have entered the Ministry.

Following the service there will be a Coffee Fellowship in the Upper Parish Hall to enable the congregation to meet the Reverend and Mrs. Reynolds, and to which everyone is heartily invited.

Mr. Reynolds is the son of Dr. Levering Reynolds, Jr. who was pastor of the Free Christian Church from 1945 to 1957. He is a graduate of Stanford University and Yale Divinity School. After chaplain internship of one year at the Connecticut Valley Hospital in Middletown, Conn. he was assistant pastor of the Avon Congregational Church, Avon, Conn. For the past six years he has been pastor of the First Congregational Church in Wiscasset.

Mr. Reynolds is married to the former Gail McKeen, a fellow-student at Yale. They have three sons; Levering Andrew 9, Peter 7 and Timothy 10 months.

Radio Rally At Church Thursday

A "Songtime Radio Rally" will be held at the Andover Baptist Church in the heart of Andover, Central and Essex Streets, by the library, on Thursday, Sept. 25, at 7 p.m.

An astounding film, "He Restored My Soul" will be shown. It is the true story of Merrill Womach whose plane crashed and turned him into a human torch with 108 gallons of burning gasoline, but he survived over 50 operations and 13 years of hospitalization with intense suffering. The film shows how a Christian copes with adversity and emerges victoriously.

A second feature will be a mini-concert by Steve Musto, noted baritone soloist, radio and television recording artist. Music Critics have hailed him as one of the three finest baritones in America today. His voice training was with Dr. Martial Singher, former baritone with the Metropolitan Opera and with Dr. Frank Cappelli.

He began his singing career at the age of 13 by touring the country with a male quartet. Then continued in college with lessons, hosting his own radio show, giving concerts, and appearing as soloist on many other programs. He has been active in Christian work as soloist at Bible conferences, crusades with leading evangelists and recording for WORD records.

This rally consisting of the movie and Steve Musto's concert is open to the public. An offering will be received, but there is no admission charge.

Religious Education Program Is Planned

A series of meetings and workshops throughout the summer with prospective teachers and members of the religious education committee has culminated in plans for 1975-76 religious education at Andover's Unitarian Universalist Church.

Students in all grades will be involved in the discovery and understanding of self, others, and religious heritage. Mrs. Paula McAfee of Andover and Mrs. Jean Rickard of North Reading, coordinators of the religious education committee, have outlined the church school classes as follows:

Nursery - care for children through the age of two

Beginners (ages three and four) - "Story Sundays" will lend themselves to expressing emotions, craft projects and physical activities.

Kindergarten and first grade - "The Haunting House" is a new Unitarian course that provides an opportunity for children to become aware of, and have affirmed, their need for special places which protect solitude and dreaming, intimacy with others, and a home for their memories. They will create new places of at-homeness as well as recognize old places of delight and comfort.

Second and third grades - will participate in "Joseph: the Story of 12 Brothers." A ready-made group of twelve brothers with all the possibilities of friendship and enmity among its members.

Their problems will reflect in dramatic form the problems children find in their own experiences.

Fourth grade - using archaeology, as well as crafts, illustrations, maps, filmstrips and field trips will attempt to "dig down" into ancient Egypt and Palestine. Bible stories will also be used.

Fifth and sixth grade will use the curriculum "Church Across the Street" to study and visit other denominations. Second semester the group will focus on our own Unitarian Universalist church community.

Junior high youth will spend the year investigating social institutions such as hospitals, courts and jails. This will be done by discussion and visits and may lead to service projects.

Senior high will have Sunday evening get-togethers on alternate weeks at the home of the minister, Dr. Randolph Becker, and his wife Gayle. Planned are a program of films and discussion, plus games and trips.

During January and February, regular church school programming for second through sixth grades will be replaced by preparation for the church school drama, "Quest," to be performed Feb. 29.

Parents wishing further information may call the church office on weekday mornings. The Unitarian Universalist Church is located at 244 Lowell St., (Rt. 133), Andover.

Guild Plans Dance

St. Augustine's Guild will conduct a "Get Acquainted" dance on Friday, Oct. 3, at the Andover Country Club.

Music will be provided by the Merry-makers and a late evening buffet will be served.

Mrs. Marcia Grant, chairman and Mrs. Joan Lemieux, co-chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Nancy Brown, Mrs. Jean Hart, Mrs. Jill McCann, Mrs. Anne Nee, Mrs. Lorraine Peck and Mrs. John Pucak.

Tickets may be purchased from any one of the committee members.

An Early Bird group jogs at 6:30 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and an Early Bird swim is featured at 7 a.m. on the same days. Other men's Swim for Fitness and Recreational swimming are scheduled at 12 Noon and 9:15 p.m. and, also, men have 29 different recreational swim classes each week from which they may select.

Swimming instruction for men is offered on Thursdays at 8:30 p.m. and for adults on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m.; Water Polo meets on Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. and Standard First Aid will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Early YMCA and Red Cross training courses for beginning aquatic leaders are also being offered this term including R.C. quired. Informal men's volleyball will be played on Monday and Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. and for informal basketball men may select Monday and Wednesday at 5:45 p.m. or the same two nights at 7:30 p.m. and a group will also play on Saturdays at 4 p.m.

Physical Fitness Tests Set

The Andover Physical Education Department will begin Physical Fitness testing for over five thousand students in the Andover school system.

All students from grade three through twelve will participate in a battery of six tests to determine their total physical fitness.

The National Test, called the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation Youth Fitness Test, provides Andover students with an opportunity to compare themselves with students scores from all over the country.

The battery of six fitness tests measures speed, endurance, explosive leg power, abdominal strength, agility, and upper body strength.

These results are utilized to determine which fitness areas will be emphasized for the school year.

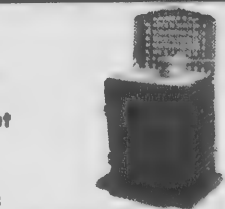

Parents can expect to receive their child's fitness scores shortly after completion of the test.

Chamber's Role Vital Hattem Tells Rotary

Putting down scare stories and facing reality has helped the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce emerge as the most vital organization in the community.

That's the way Robert F. Hattem, Merrimack College development vice president, summarized the aims and goals of the Chamber in an address to the Rotary Club recently at a New Hampshire luncheon meeting.

"The energies of the membership working together has given the Merrimack Valley region upward mobility," Hattem said. "The history of the last 25 years shatters the modern myth that business is too much concerned with profits and not enough with public responsibility."

Reminding the Rotarians of the Great Textile decline following World War II, the Merrimack College official said "the businessmen of Greater Lawrence could have packed their bags for newer pastures, but instead individually and collectively they rebuilt the community."

The scare stories were put down and the stark realities of people working together led to new homes, new jobs, upward mobility of low income groups and industry, he added. "Instead of wrestling with fear and despair, the community went to work, chiefly through the private sector, to rejuvenate the area."

The Chamber today has its own date with reality, Hattem continued. The economic plight of government is being met head on by the Chamber through economic development and aid-to-existing industry activities. "The membership wears many hats. It is sometimes the critic and sometimes the partner of government. It is always committed to community."

Hattem said that private enterprise has been the main ingredient of success for Greater Lawrence. Over the years it has been the private sector that has helped build the Bon Secours and Lawrence General Hospitals. "It has been the support of the private sector that has enabled the YMCA, Boys Club and Merrimack College to expand and meet modern day challenges."

He said that "corporate caring" was the single biggest asset for the recovery of the area in difficult times. "The umbrella, the collective voice for many of those committed to the community, has been the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce," Hattem concluded.

What Our Readers Say

Open Letter To Principal Wormwood and Vice Principal Hixon:

With regard to the walk-out undertaken last Friday by 136 Andover High School students in protest against privilege cutbacks, I would like to make a few comments.

First, I believe that the students' right to protest in a non-violent respectful manner should be honored by the administration. In this Bicentennial year, we should remember that such non-violent demonstrations of protest belong in the mainstream of American tradition, and we should deal with them in a thoughtful constructive manner, rather than in an overbearing authoritarian way.

I also believe that these students have a justifiable grievance. (I must agree that I do not see any very clear relationship between restricting students' outdoor and bathroom privileges and the administration's aim of reducing the vandalism rate. Perhaps the administration should give a little deeper consideration to the most effective methods of building school and personal responsibility.)

Student leader David Need has stated that he attempted to utilize the normal channels for achieving a change in rules by discussing discipline problems with Vice Principal Wilbur Hixon but was rebuffed. Therefore, he and a number of fellow students took what I consider to be a reasonable next step by expressing their opinions through a non-violent demonstration.

The administration, in my opinion, should recognize that they have erred in not allowing student dissatisfaction to be expressed through the usual channels of cooperative discussion and have caused the students to resort to this method of communication.

Mr. Wormwood and Mr. Hixon should immediately arrange to meet with these students to discuss student grievances and administration aims and to attempt to arrive at a mutually agreeable solution through the most effective methods, namely, cooperation and goodwill. The High School is defaulting on its responsibility to teach students how to deal constructively with life's problems by setting an example of resorting to authoritarianism in a difficult situation.

If Mr. Wormwood and Mr. Hixon allow the permanent records of these students to be tarnished by an unexplained "suspension" notation due to the administration's inability to solve a simple discipline problem peacefully, then they should know that it is the administration's own ineffectiveness that is harming the futures of these young people. I would not want that on my conscience.

I hope that Mr. Wormwood and Mr. Hixon will realize that they have two duties to the town's educational system - to maintain order and to teach how to live the good life - and that both aims can be achieved through meeting with the students for a cooperative problem-solving session. Perhaps both sides might grow a little bit in respect for each other!

Open Letter For Dr. Griggs

Despite the debilitating delaying tactics of school committee member David Ahouse, a resolution was passed by the Andover school committee to poll parents on their preferences for establishment of a traditional pilot program in Andover public schools.

This was a milestone decision - the resulting efforts of a dedicated group of parents to restore freedom of choice for Andover citizens in the education of their children. A questionnaire will soon be mailed out by the school department to all Andover citizens for them to indicate their interest in such a program for their children.

For the benefit of all Andover parents it should be clearly stated that those who desire such an alternative learning environment for their children, in no way intend that it should pose a threat to children and parents who are satisfied with the current Andover school program. It is intended that the traditional alternative shall be strictly voluntary for both teachers and students. The move for establishment of a traditional program does not suggest an inadequacy of existing instruction in Andover, but is rather a recognition that a variety of educational needs exist in our community. Establishment of a traditional school will provide maximum opportunity for children to participate in programs which meet their unique needs and parent preference.

There has been much said by Andover's educators indicating their willingness to meet such individual needs and preferences. In establishing a traditional alternative we are faced with a remarkable opportunity to carry through on such promises and end once and for all the polarization that has bitterly divided this community over the past four or five years.

Let us look forward to the cooperative efforts of all Andover citizens to make both the existing school program and the new traditional program work hand in hand toward the goal of quality education in Andover public schools.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

"Should The Town Be A Land Baron?" asks The TOWNSMAN in its September 11 issue then provides information mostly against that view. I would like to add to the information given but from a different viewpoint.

Back in 1849 the selectmen of the town of Boston proposed to sell much of Boston Common and for much the same reason of the TOWNSMAN today: It would expand business opportunities by encouraging more people to live in Boston. But most will agree that had the people then had still more wit and gone further than just stopping the selectmen's plan to sell The Common and put in force a 15 year plan to buy back twice as much land as was in The Common then Boston today would be a pleasant place in which to live, travel, work, play and retire.

A good rule to follow is to have about one half acre of open vacant land for each inhabitant. At 26,000 population and 20 square miles of land, Andover has about 13,000 acres. This places it at the right proportion of one half acre of open land for each person. Let us apply that sound experience.

The TOWNSMAN suggests that "Andover residents should not be in the position of fencing themselves in, or providing a struggle for those who may wish to, likewise" join us. No problem there. With 90 per cent of the people in the United States living on 10 per cent of the land, problems come mostly from people living too close together. Andover's obligation is to encourage people to spread, to make other land more usable.

Mention was made that Courts are ruling against zoning and other "municipal barriers" to new business. However, recently a court ruled that a plan for making a town like a city was unjust even though a lower court had upheld it. The higher court pointed out, as does this letter, that there are limits to how much a town should be called upon to sacrifice its character in the name of making business profitable. To this can be added that this is especially so when the contractors, after having created the problems, move on to greener territory; that is where others have done

Manson, Neo-Nazi Group Linked

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- The recent attempt to assassinate President Ford has thrown the spotlight on a secret prison society called the "Aryan Brotherhood," an all-white cult of 200 California prison inmates.

Investigators believe that the "Brotherhood" was used to pass messages from convicted mass murderer Charles Manson to Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme, the Manson disciple who pointed a loaded .45 caliber pistol at Ford.

Our sources emphasize that there is no hard evidence of a Brotherhood-Manson-Fromme conspiracy to kill the President. Nevertheless, an official investigation of the Aryan Brotherhood has been launched.

At this point, little is known about the mysterious organization, which seems to espouse a nebulous, neo-Nazi philosophy. California prison authorities describe the group as "dedicated largely to racism but also involved in hoodlum activities, including murder contracts."

The Aryan Brotherhood, officials believe, has been responsible for at least a dozen murders behind California prison walls.

Charles Manson's association with the Brotherhood puzzles penal authorities.

They share much the same philosophy. Manson publicly proclaims his love for blacks but privately derides them as "niggers." He has also expressed admiration for Adolf Hitler who, Manson once said, "had the best answer to everything."

For a while, apparently, the group protected Manson from other inmates. In return, he instructed the girls in his "family" to provide sexual favors to Brotherhood members who were released.

Now, however, Manson is said to fear the Brotherhood wants to kill him. "As near as we can understand," a San Quentin official told us, "he's on the outs with them now. The Aryan Brotherhood could be trying to squeeze Manson out of the picture and take over his family."

According to our sources, members of the Aryan Brotherhood have been visiting "Squeaky" Fromme upon their release from prison. She, in turn, has been trying to use them to contact Manson.

These are the pieces of the puzzle authorities have assembled so far. It remains to be seen whether the final picture will depict a conspiracy to kill the President.

Aid Fray: Concerned American Jews have cautioned Israeli officials to soft-pedal their requests for U.S. aid. Too much pressure, the Jewish advisers fear, could create a backlash.

Americans may start questioning, for example, why they should send Israel more than $3 billion but refuse to save New York City from economic collapse.

Or they may ask why they should pay for the oil that Israel buys from Iran at the same time that their own gas prices are going up.

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has suggested softly on Capitol Hill, meanwhile, that Congress cannot grant billions in military aid to Israel and turn down the request of Jordan's King Hussein, a staunch American friend, for a Hawk missile anti-aircraft system.

Egypt's President Sadat has also become pro-American. And he has quietly sounded out Kissinger for $250 million in economic aid and favorable terms for the purchase of up to $1 billion in arms. Sadat is eager, for example, to refit his Soviet-made air force for American-made parts.

It looks as if the next Arab-Israeli showdown may occur on Capitol Hill.

Economic Sabotage: The economic recovery of the industrial West could be sabotaged by another disastrous oil price increase.

We have checked the secret intelligence reports, therefore, to find out whether an increase is likely. We have also spoken to several leading Arab oilmen.

All the oil producing countries, except Saudi Arabia, are pressing for a price hike. The Saudis alone are trying to delay the increase, at least until the end of the year.

Seven of the oil countries, led by Algeria and Kuwait, want a drastic increase of $2 per barrel on October 1. They contend that a $2 adjustment is necessary to keep up with inflation. The Shah of Iran, meanwhile, has already called for a hefty price boost.

Some of the oil countries would accept a more moderate, $1-per-barrel increase. But there is no chance, according to our sources, that the disagreement will break up in the oil cartel. Their united stand has brought them fabulous profits. So they are expected to reach a compromise. Most likely, they will raise prices at least $1 per barrel on October 1.

This will mean higher gas prices and a slower economic recovery.

Puddle Factory: Several years ago, we coined the phrase "Puddle Factory" as a synonym for the federal bureaucracy. As time passes, the term grows more appropriate. To wit:

— On May 6, 1975, President Ford called on "all federal civilian and military personnel" to economize. At the Agriculture Department, Secretary Earl Butz passed on the Presidential plea with a cover memo of his own. All his employees, he said, were expected "to reduce Government costs." Six days later, the Department's Farmer Cooperative Service distributed another memo. "The balloting is over, the votes have been counted," it stated, "and all necessary clearances have been obtained—we will install Muzak and give it a try."

The Freedom Trail, Boston, has been re-routed and divided into two loops -- one through downtown Boston and the other through the North End. Red sidewalk lines trace the trail, beginning at City Hall.

Community Chorus To Resume

The Methuen Community Chorus is resuming their rehearsals for the 1975-76 season. Under the leadership of Carol Prasad and accompanied by Barbara Greenwood, the group of mixed voices is starting its sixth year, and is made up of adults and teenagers from the Merrimack Valley area. They sing a wide range of choral music from many types of composers. The Chorus's plans for the coming year include a Christmas concert, participating in the Methuen Bicentennial celebration in March, and a spring concert. They also plan smaller concerts throughout the year for senior citizen, church, and school groups.

New members are cordially invited to join the Methuen Community Chorus. No try-outs are required, only an enjoyment of choral singing. Anyone interested may phone Mavis Piper, Chorus manager, or come to a rehearsal, Monday evenings at 7:30 p.m. at St. George's Methodist Church Hall, Phillips St., Methuen.

Discipline - - The Name Of The Game

Justifiable and proper are words which come to mind with respect to the suspension of over 130 students who staged a walkout at Andover High school last week.

Principal Philip Wormwood ordered the two-day suspensions of all students involved in the walkout staged to protest a cutback on student privileges.

What seems uppermost in consideration of the punishment, is that affirmative action was taken and amplifying the fact that a small minority will not dictate for the majority.

Reminded that disciplinary action would follow should the protest go forth, only 130-140 members of the student body participated in the protest, while the remaining members of the 1,500 member student body remained in classes and school schedules.

The curtailment of privileges was dictated by the abuse of freedoms granted during the past academic year, coupled with considerable and costly vandalism.

While the damage and abuse may well be attributed to a minority of the student body, the only effective way of exercising control is to limit the privileges granted the entire student body.

It is also a form of instruction in an old, sometimes we fear, forgotten art of discipline.

There is little doubt that there is a growing erosion of respect for authority, aided by liberal courts, assisted somewhat by refusal at home to exercise parental responsibility.

The next logical place, of course, is the school, with public education now assuming duties once left to the home and almost making the educational process a secondary thing.

Thus, when Andover High students defied authority, it was only right and proper that they be disciplined.

There are channels of communication to discuss grievances or problems. And, while conclusions are not always pleasing or agreeable, to the aggrieved, the order must be followed.

The suspensions may be a difficult way to learn, hopefully the action will have a lasting impression upon them.

The Survey

A survey of Andover parent's desires on choosing a traditional classroom situation is scheduled to be taken, following a 3-1 vote of the school committee this past week.

The survey is aimed at determining if a pilot program offering such an educational structure should take place in Andover.

Such a survey could go a long way toward quieting the storm of controversy which has surrounded Andover education for some time.

But, it also could further fan the flames of controversy or could result in increasing costs of an already high educational budget in Andover.

In recent years there have been other requests for initiation of an educational system other than that in practice in Andover. At one time there was suggestion of an alternative school within the system. The traditionalists have been active in recent years, both at school committee meetings as well as at the ballot box attempting to either institute another system, or, on a more personal note, attack the administration.

With the planned survey, there should be some substantial figures to determine in what direction An-dover's school system should proceed, or if a pilot program is warranted.

The questions which arise, or course, include, will either side find the answers acceptable, and, if a pilot program is warranted, where do the funds come from to underwrite it.

In the past decade figure - merchants have bandied test scores and other significant data to their own liking in order to produce arguments for and against a specific mode of education.

We trust that survey results can likewise be adapted to whatever course of educational pursuits one advocates.

As for the cost of such a program, it should be noted that Andover already pays a substantial sum for its public education program.

While not firmly convinced that the current educational operations in Andover are the best, we likewise are not about to support varying programs to suit personal desires.

Traditional or open classrooms can be chosen ultimately, but we must be able to accept the theory that public education cannot be all things to all people and remain within the realm of economic reason.

Town House Topics

Rail Issue On Data Siding

The Andover Rail Committee, studying proposed increased passenger train service for Andover commuters, will not be attending Monday's meeting of the selectmen.

The local group and the MBTA which operates the service, are still gathering pertinent data in order to give local officials a more accurate accounting of the possible subsidy costs to the town for the additional service.

All of the data will not be available in time for a meeting with the selectmen on Monday, Town Manager J. Maynard Austin was informed this week.

The ARC group at the Sept. 8 meeting of the board, had provided the selectmen with a schedule which would provide Andover with a four train schedule to Boston, two at peak hours and two at off-peak.

In order to get the additional service operative within the amount budgeted by Andover, the cities of Haverhill and Lawrence would have to also agree to accept the service and costs.

Sewer Work Due To Begin

Work in the installation of the new trunk sewer line to the West Andover industrial property was scheduled to get underway in full swing this week.

... The J.F. White Construction Co., low bidder on the project, anticipated the arrival of pipe for the project this week, which would put the project in full motion.

Construction crews have been working on preparing the path of the sewer line which follows a route roughly along the Merrimack River from the Lawrence line to the former Shattuck Farm property.

The trunk will serve the industrial area now being developed by Arkwright / Boston Insurance Co., with Hewlett - Packard the initial prime tenant.

The J.F. White Co., is also a prime contractor on the construction of the Greater Lawrence Sanitary District facilities.

CBD Survey

The survey was conducted as part of the state census taking, with residents receiving a questionnaire regarding opinions of the Andover downtown area and its future development.

The findings are now in the process of review and are being put in report form.

The report is expected within the next month.

Data Processing

The position of a data processing person, the title still to be determined, is still being reviewed by the selectmen with the school committee.

Auditions Set For St. Augustine's Play

THE TOWNSMAN, SEPTEMBER 18, 1975

Plans are underway for the presentation of Gian-Carlo Menotti's Amahl and the Night Visitors sponsored by St. Augustine's parish. The musical play, entirely sung, is actually a one-act opera which portrays the simple story of the Three Kings of the East following the Star of Bethlehem. On their journey they stop for shelter at the poor hut of Amahl, a crippled boy and his Mother. Neighboring shepherds visit with gifts to the Kings.

The play contains a mixture of suspense, sadness and comedy, featuring stirring arias by Amahl, his mother and the Three Kings and highlighted by a spirited shepherd's dance and delightful shepherd's chorus songs.

Cast includes Amahl - a boy soprano; his Mother - soprano; King Kaspar - tenor; King Melchior - baritone; King Balthazar - bass; the Page - bass; chorus of shepherds and villagers; dancers.

Anita McDuffie of Andover will direct the production. Her credits include musical direction for numerous community theatre productions including Man of La Mancha, Funny Girl and Cabaret. She has also appeared on stage in several roles including the Unsinkable Molly Brown. She has directed and acted as a member of the Andover Community Theatre (ACT). Presently she is a liturgical musician at St. Augustine's parish, Andover.

Collaborating with her in the areas of production and scenic design will be Rick Winterson of Andover who is a veteran of 25 years of experience in community theatre. He has directed King and I, Harvey, Arsenic and Old Lace and most recently, Dirty Work at the Crossroads for ACT. Mr. Winterson has also done much work in the area of children's theatre.

Performance dates will be Jan. 2, 3 and 4, 1976, which fall between the feasts of Christmas and Epiphany, the time in which the play is set.

Auditions are open to all. Dates scheduled are Sunday, Sept. 28 at 3 p.m.; Tuesday, Sept. 30 at 8 p.m.; and Wednesday, Oct. 1 at 7 p.m. in St. Augustine's lower church, Essex St., Andover.

An organizational meeting to formulate backstage crews and business staff will take place on Wednesday, Sept. 24, 7:30 p.m. at St. Augustine's lower church.

St. Robert's Organist In Concert

The second annual concert presented by St. Robert Bellarmine Church at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall, and featuring St. Robert's organist Donald E. Harrison, will be held Sept. 21 at 8 p.m.

Joining Mr. Harrison will be the Middlesex Brass Quintet, and the St. Robert's Adult Choir, under the direction of Dr. Domenic Procopio. A brief Marian dedication service climaxing the parish Holy Year celebrations of Reconciliation and Renewal, will be held.

Mr. Harrison of Dracut, attended Boston University College of Music, where he majored in music education. He studied with the late Frederick Johnson, organist of St. Paul's Cathedral, and has served in many area churches including Trinity Church in Lawrence and Trinity Lutheran Church in Chelmsford. Mr. Harrison, a member of the Lutheran Church, in the spirit of ecumenism has felt that his talent should be used in the service of the Lord, and several years ago St. Robert's Church needed another organist for their choir and liturgical celebrations, so he became the organist of St. Robert's Church and has played at many religious events in most of the Greater Lowell Catholic churches.

The Middlesex Brass Quintet was formed in 1964 to help revive brass chamber music playing. It has given concerts at the Gardner Museum, Boston, Lowell State College and the Sears Gallery of the Eatham Public Library, and played after-dinner programs for various community organizations. The group has also performed in churches throughout Eastern Massachusetts, and with several of the area's choral groups. Members of the quintet include William Dygert of Lexington, Robert Turkington of Concord, Jeremy Welts of Waltham, Mrs. Jeanne Traphagen of Chelmsford and Hampton Huckins of Chelmsford.

On Dean's List

Ellen Anne O'Donnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. O'Donnell of 34 Lincoln St., Andover, has been named to the dean's list for the spring semester at Boston University's Sargent College of Allied Health Professions. The Guild welcomes into membership those interested in the various artistic media. Junior membership, 13 years of age, is urged by Ann Lange, vice president and membership chairman. Other officers are Polly Lee, secretary and Alan Mahanki, treasurer.

The fisher, a twelve-pound weasel, is the fastest mammal in the trees where it can catch squirrels and martens, the Massachusetts Audubon Society says. It lives in forests of eastern Canada and northern New England across to the West Coast.

pected to be forthcoming within the next few weeks.

The position has been created to expedite the combining of some of the business functions of both the school and general government agencies.

Action on filling a business manager vacancy in the school department is being withheld until such time as the position and its responsibilities are decided upon.

To Discuss Subdivision

The selectmen have the Parkhurst Subdivision off Lowell street on their agenda for discussion next Monday night.

The plan approved by the planning board in 1966 has not been completed and streets in the subdivision are not completed.

Funds for completion through taking of the bond are insufficient to put the roads in condition to meet town standards.

Also scheduled for discussion Monday by the board, will be their positions on the articles in the warrant for the October town meeting.

Hearings Unattended

If the interest in the October town meeting can be gauged by the public hearing scheduled by the Finance Committee on money articles in the warrant, a quorum is in doubt.

The FinCom scheduled a hearing on the warrant

Tuesday night in Memorial Auditorium and beyond some proponents of articles, captured the interest of no one.

cause your written appearance to be entered and your written answer or other lawful pleading to be filed in the office of the recorder of said court at Boston in the County of Suffolk, and further that you defend against said suit according to law, if you intend to make any defense, and that you do and receive what the court shall order, adjudge and decree therein.

Hereof fail not, at your peril, as otherwise said suit may be adjudged, and orders and decrees entered therein, in your absence.

The plaintiffs represent that they are the owners of a parcel of land in Andover, in said County of Essex, being shown as Lot #3 on River Road, on a plan of land as subdivided by Acreage Development Corp., dated May 11, 1964, recorded with Essex North District Registry of Deeds, as Plan No. 5016, more particularly described in a deed from LOUIS DI ZOGILLO et ux recorded with said Registry of Deeds in Book 1227, Page 549, and further representing that Acreage Development Corp. was the holder of a mortgage from BERNADO CORSETTI, a predecessor in title, to the plaintiffs, dated May 29, 1964, recorded with said Registry of Deeds, in Book 1010, Page 364, subject to a prior mortgage held by Andover Savings Bank but did not mention the second mortgage held by said grantee, which deed was dated July 29, 1964 and recorded in said Registry of Deeds in Book 1040, Page 29, and further representing that said Acreage Development Corp. conveyed said Lot #3 to ROBERT L. HELGREN et al, Trs. by deed dated July 30, 1965, recorded with said Registry of Deeds, Book 1043, Page 27, and made no mention of said mortgage in Book 1010, Page 364, and further representing that said plaintiffs' present mortgagee considers said mortgage in Book 1010, Page 364 to be a cloud on the title, that the defendant Acreage Development Corp. was dissolved on December 11, 1974 for failure to file certificates of condition, and praying that the Court find and determine that there was a merger of the mortgage and the title held by Acreage Development Corp. and that the plaintiffs hold their title free from the mortgage given by BERNADO CORSETTI to the defendant recorded in Book 1010, Page 364, and it appearing to the Court upon the suggestion of the petitioners that the whereabouts of some of the defendants are unknown, and they cannot actually be served with process, it is ORDERED that notice be given by publishing a copy of this notice by publication once a week for three successive weeks in the Andover Townsman, the last publication to be one month at least before said first Monday of November next.

Merchants To Join In Cultural Week

The Andover Chamber of Commerce's Center Merchants and the Andover Artist Guild are in preparation for Andover's greatest Cultural week. The week of Sept. 29 through Oct. 4 has been designated Art Week and hundreds of paintings by Andover's own talents will be displayed from Elm Street to Punchard Avenue within the Center Merchants' place of business.

The Artist Guild will personally supervise the many "art galleries" and help the businessmen to display the paintings so each becomes a special attraction.

Paul J. Gmyrek, Chairman of the Center Merchants and Mrs. D. Medici of the Artist Guild are in charge of the week long activity that will observe its grand finale with the Art in the Park on Saturday, the fourth, under the direction of the Andover Recreation Department.

School Post

school department matters. They feel the school people should know best who could serve their needs at this time. The time element between the appointment and the town election is longer this time than it was last Fall.

Whoever is appointed would serve only until the town election in 1976 at which time the appointee would either leave the board or run for election.

Getting unanimity of opinion on a candidate among school committee members may be a difficult task. Composition of the board has not lent itself to complete agreement in recent years on many issues. Differences of opinion on educational philosophy has also been a dividing factor among board members and could have a bearing on the selection of the replacement.

There have been at least six residents of the community who have written either the selectmen, school committee or both seeking to fill the vacancy.
